The Hundred Decker Bus!! All aboard for a bus trip (and then a quiz, so watch and listen carefully)!

- Listen to the story here.
- Now watch and listen again and look out for some of the recurring characters in the book; spot the characters!
- How many times can you spot the lady with the orange hair and glasses?
- Now see how many times you can spot a boy with a football, a white-bearded man, a man in an orange turban, a clown, a lady knitting and a boy eating a banana
- Notice the characters in the band on Deck 100; where else can you spot them?
- Can you find the 2 places where a rabbit appears?
- Think of a question that you could ask someone else; who can they spot?

Outdoor and relax time

The 100 Decker Bus Maths

- Can you count to 100? Can you count to 100 in 2s, 5s and 10s?
- Deck 50 is clearly important; why do you think this is?
- Deck 30 is mentioned in the story; can you find it?
- Write down 5 facts about the number 30, about the number 50 and the number 100. Share your facts with someone else

Lunch

Build your own bus.

- Collect some boxes , cereal boxes are ideal.
- Begin to build your bus
- Decorate the sides. You will add more decks to the bus as the week goes on, so there is no need to decorate the top or bottom.
- How many decks has your bus got by the end of this session?
- You could sing this song while you are decorating your bus.

The Good Stuff with Deborah James - iTunes Podcast

Each Monday Deborah and her children Eloise and Hugo will investigate the research around the 'good stuff' covering questions such as how does music boost your mood? Why should we look after the animals on our planet? What does kindness look like in different countries around the world?

Deck 77 Writing

Here is the link to The Hundred Decker Bus again

Why do you think Deck 77 is empty?

Write down your ideas to explain why the passengers put nothing on that deck, (or maybe something was on the deck and then it disappeared).

If you think the deck needs filling what would you put there and why?

Share your ideas with someone else.

Lunch

- Continue with your writing from before lunch if you need to, and illustrate it
- If you have more boxes available, add more decks to your bus. How tall is it now? Measure it in different ways after you have estimated it's height

Be Internet Legends!

- Visit the website here
- The Be Internet Legends programme is designed to teach your child the skills they need to stay safe and have a positive time online. Your involvement at home can really help reinforce these key messages to help your child become more confident when exploring the online world.

Mathematics

EYFS

Maths is all around us as we walk and follow the routes we have made for our bus. Try this investigation and share your photos as clues, or write some clues for others

KS1: White Rose Maths

- Visit the website here
- Choose your year group
- Watch the video

Lunch

Get creative

- If you have some vehicles at home, make a route that they will travel along. You could make it in your garden or inside.
- You may choose to draw a map first before you make the route.
- Use the map in the book as a starting point for your ideas.
- Where will you stop? What will you see at each bus stop?
- Talk through the route with someone else and drive your vehicles around it. You know the song, "The Wheels on the Bus"; you could sing it as you drive the route. Watch it here.

• Make sure you think about road safety when you are driving the route.

- o Look out for pedestrians on zebra crossings.
  - o Look out for traffic lights on amber or red.
  - o Look out for cyclists
  - o Look out for people who may not cross the road as safely as you do.
- Watch this clip to remind yourself and your friends how to keep safe when crossing the road.

Wednesday 17th continued..

Check out the Purple Watermelon website and their Facebook page 'I'm at home with the kids. Get me out of here.'

Naughty Bus! This is another story about a bus, but very different from "The Hundred Decker Bus".

- Watch and listen to the story of "Naughty Bus" here.
- Talk to someone about what is happening in some of the scenes in the book?
- How do you think the people at the bus stop feel when the bus does not stop?
- Can you spot the dinosaur in one of the illustrations?
- Write and draw about what you think will happen when the dinosaur sees the bus

Outdoor and relax time

EYFS

- This link to White Rose Maths will help you with the maps and routes you are working on this week.
- Use this link to help you estimate the height of something tall. Can you estimate the height of a real bus?

KS1: White Rose Maths

- Visit the website here
- Choose your year group
- Watch the video
- Email if you are stuck - mathshelp@whiterosemaths.com

Lunch

Make your own Naughty Bus adventure!

Watch this clip of the story to give you some good ideas.

- Take a toy bus or another small toy vehicle off for adventures indoors, in the garden or your local park.
- Talk about the route you go on with whoever is with you.
- Remember the route and talk about it with someone else over Zoom, WhatsApp! or phone.
- If it helps you to remember the route you could take some photos or draw a map; a bus driver needs to remember their route!

The Good Stuff with Deborah James - iTunes Podcast

Each Thursday will be a 'good news only' channel, sharing good news sent in from people at home, as well as exciting stories of positive news from around the world.
